Peacemaking, 1919 Harold Nicolson

'Of all branches of human endeavour, diplomacy is the most protean.' That is how Harold Nicolson begins this book. It is an apt opening. The Paris Conference of 1919, attended by thirty-two nations, had the supremely challenging task of attempting to bring about a lasting peace after the global catastrophe of the Great War.

Harold Nicolson was a member of the British delegation. His book is in two parts. In the first he provides an account of the conference, in the second his diary covering his six month stint. There is a piquant counterpoise between the two. Of his diary he writes, 'I should wish it to be read as people read the reminiscences of a subaltern in the trenches. There is the same distrust of headquarters; the same irritation against the staff-officer who interrupts; the same belief that one's own sector is the centre of the battle-front; the same conviction that one is, with great nobility of soul, winning the war quite single-handed.' The diary ends with prophetic disillusionment, 'To bed, sick of life.'

As a first-hand account of one of the most important events shaping the modern world this book remains a classic.

Nancy Herman:

People live in this new day time of lifestyle always aim to and must have the extra time or they will get large amount of stress from both way of life and work. So , when we ask do people have extra time, we will say absolutely indeed. People is human not just a robot. Then we ask again, what kind of activity are there when the spare time coming to an individual of course your answer will unlimited right. Then do you try this one, reading textbooks. It can be your alternative in spending your spare time, the actual book you have read is usually Peacemaking, 1919.

Kenneth Armstrong:

Playing with family in a very park, coming to see the coastal world or hanging out with buddies is thing that usually you have done when you have spare time, then why you don't try thing that really opposite from that. One particular activity that make you not feeling tired but still relaxing, trilling like on roller coaster you already been ride on and with addition of information. Even you love Peacemaking, 1919, you can enjoy both. It is great combination right, you still need to miss it? What kind of hang-out type is it? Oh can happen its mind hangout folks. What? Still don't get it, oh come on its named reading friends.
