Excerpt: ... JOURNEY THROUGH SYRIA AND PALESTINE IN 1851 AND 1852. TOUR TO THE DEAD SEA, AND THROUGH THE SOUTHERN PARTS OF JUDEA. Wadi Urtas (solomon's Gardens), March 22, 1862. " He who on God his burthen lays With him is hid and safe always." Yes, my friend, this day has again presented a striking proof of the above. Could you receive this letter at the same time with that which I despatched at noon to you from Jerusalem, you could hardly believe that my circumstances should have been so changed in a few hours. At present, in consequence of having received the letters that were sent off to you, you will be thinking that no doubt I shall soon return, and stand before you, disheartened and disappointed,-- and behold, there is nothing less likely than that. On the contrary, my investigations are now entering on what may be the most important part of my whole journey. But I must at once satisfy your curiosity with respect to the causes that have produced so sudden a change. VOL. II. A 2 LEAVE JERUSALEM. I shut up my letter-book, took the lines I had written to you to the British consulate, again inquired of Mr Danous if he was sure there were no letters for me, got the answer--Oh! I am quite sure of it, sir!--and rode out at the Jaffa-gate. My mind was quite composed. The Lord gave me full confidence in His wise and watchful love. Had not I always found throughout my whole journey,--nay, throughout my whole life,--that " His eye was upon me? " So, then, I rode down the footpaths along the slope of the Valley of Gihon, then turned round towards the left, away by the side of the Lower pool, on the further side of the valley, and had just once more assured myself of my being on the right road by asking one of the passers-by if this was the way to Bethlehem, when I heard som...
